The Boys to Men Mentoring Network has a seven-year history of success with engaging young men and bringing them into value and mission based community. The Network combines three different programs into one intensive year of transformation for boys ready to move into manhood.

The “Rites of Passage Adventure Weekend” is a dramatic experience that kicks off a boy’s year of transformation.

The BTM program can be intense for both the boys and their parents. As the boys change, parents are asked to be conscious participants in the process.
